Main St. rebuilding to begin in April

"It could be a big year for Antioch if the planned projects all get off the ground."

That is the assessment of Antioch Public Works Supt. Walter Shepard as he listed a number of public works projects for 1980.

ONE OF THE major projects will be the rebuilding of Main St. by the Illinois Dept. of Transportation. Shepard attended a pre-construction meeting and reported that work is scheduled to begin in April.

Shepard termed the project "major repairs" for Main St. from Rte. 173 to North Ave. "It will be general rebuilding of the road," he said.

To be done is taking off the old surface, putting on a new surface, traffic signal improvements at Lake St. and Main St., removing and replacing old curbing and catch basin repairs to improve storm water drainage.

Shepard said the road will not be widened as there is not enough right-of-way.

Another project that Shepard said "the board is sure to make a decision on" is the special taxing district for improvements in the Orchard St., Hillside Ave. and Lake St. area.

SHEPARD SAID that if this project is approved by the village board and the property owners in the district, the public works department will be involved. "We will be in-involved in the inspection and of course the design of the project. We don't want them to design anything we can't maintain," Shepard said.

The project will also affect the village budget because there will be village funds used for the project that Shepard said would probably come from the general fund.

The public works superintendent is confident that dredging and realignment of Sequoit Creek will be done this year. "We hope to resolve the differences with the Antioch Grade School Board," he said.

The dredging and realignment project will help relieve the flooding conditions in the village by getting more storm water out of the village faster, Shepard pointed out.

He is projecting that the village will spend about $25,000, the same as in 1979, for repair and upgrading of streets in the village. Targeted areas include Oakwood Knolls, Sequoit Terrace and Village Green subdivisions.

The sewer treatment plant report is expected this year. The report includes an engineering study on how to update the plant and the system to eliminate storm water system.

Shepard is hopeful that the design phase of the project can be started this year.

Foreman to keynote Jaycee's DSA banquet

The Antioch Jaycees have announced that Fred Foreman will be the featured speaker at the Feb. 2 Jaycee Distinguished Service Award Banquet to be held at St. Peter's Social Center.

Tickets are available at the State Bank of Antioch, Antioch Savings and Loan, First State Bank, Brauhaus, Lyons-Ryan Ford, Village Pub, Antioch Village Hall and Antioch Township Hall.

Foreman, presently a Republican candidate for Lake County States Attorney, himself has a distinguished service career.

He graduated from Warren Township High School in 1966 where he was named to the Northwest Suburban Conference All Star team in 1966, the Chicago Tribune All Star Team in 1966 and made honorable mention on the Chicago Sun Times All State team.

He received an appointment from Senator Everett M. Dirksen to the United States Air Force Academy in 1966, received his B.S. degree from Carroll College in 1970 and his law degree from John Marshall Law School, Chicago, in 1974.

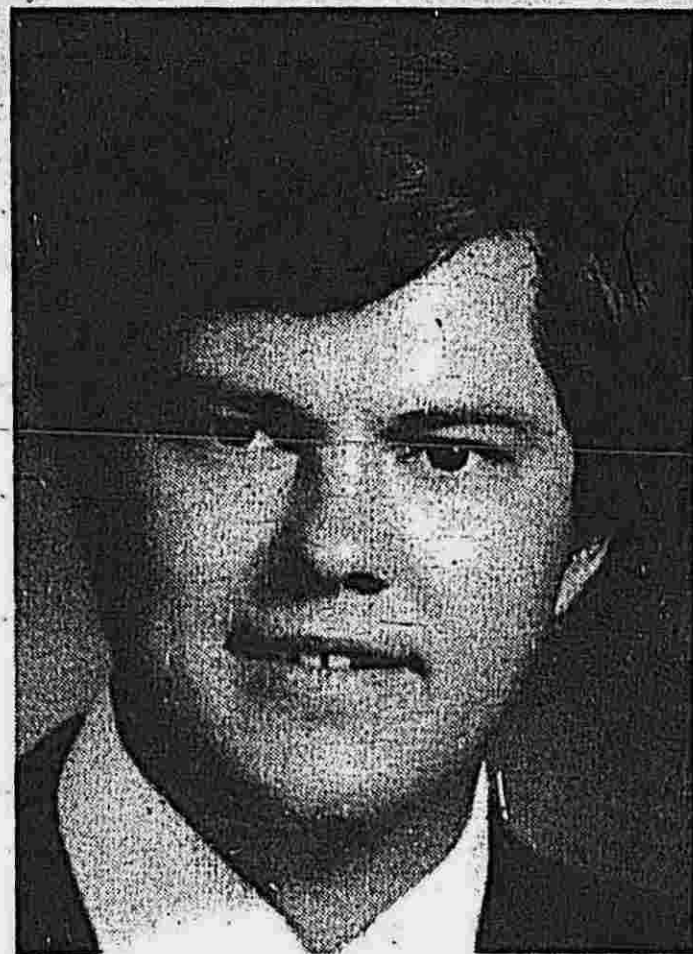

He has served in the Air Force, is a member of the Zion-Benton Moose Lodge and a member of the Gurnee Community Church.

As a lawyer he received special permission from the Illinois Supreme Court to practice law while he was still a law student, has been admitted to practice before the Illinois Bar and the United States District Court for Northern Illinois, has served as assistant Lake County Public Defender and as an assistant states attorney and presently has his own private practice in Waukegan.

His campaign goals including cutting the costs of administration in the states attorney's office, re-establishing a misdemeanor division and the establishment of a separate juvenile division within that office.

He hopes to provide a better training program for assistant states attorneys and restore a philosophy in the state attorney's office of cooperation with other law enforcement agencies and police departments. Other goals include curtailing the abuses of plea bargaining as well as the maintenance of a civil division in the states attorney's office, free from political influence, to advise the county board and other county departments.

More information on the Jaycee Distinguished Service Award banquet is available from any local Jaycee member.

Jacque Larson cited for youth concern

An Antioch Community High School student, Jacques Larson, has been chosen as recipient of this year's Lake County Juvenile Officer's Assn. President's Award, for exceptional community service.

Miss Larson, 15, has worked a number of years in the Village of Antioch Dept. of Parks and Recreation. She has been counselor, assistant and organizer in a number of programs in the department, working part time during the school year and full time during the summer.

In the presentation of the award plaque Dec. 15, she was noted for her special talent for working with children with patience, dedication and dependability.

According to Juvenile Officer Max Vogel of the Grayslake Police Dept., and a member of the association, the President's Award began three years ago, and is presented once annually.

"We wanted to give some publicity to a juvenile that did some good, rather than the kids that are always getting into trouble," he said.

Any young person under 18 years old living in Lake County is eligible for the award. Recommendations can be submitted from anyone, and the youth showing most outstanding service is chosen by the Lake County Juvenile Officers' Assn. The President's Award is presented at a special awards banquet.

Miss Larson's name was submitted to the association by Antioch Juvenile Officer Bob Lange, who was notified of her service by Glenda Tomaschik of the parks and recreation department. One of Miss Larson's counselors at Antioch High School and Antioch Mayor Michael Haley reportedly recommended her.

"Because of her work in the parks and recreation department, she is well-known to many village officials and administrators," said Mrs. Tomaschik, her employer. "She works with three-year-olds and up year round. In the past she's contributed her best to bowling programs, summer day camps, the office, concessions stand, and annual events like the Easter egg hunt, tree-lighting ceremony and road race.

"When working with small children she's always patient and willing. She's always ready to put her best foot forward and never has to be led around. She's a dependable little gal who you can call on at the last moment and can depend on to help out.

"Jacques's success in her work did not come from training. It's a talent for working with people."

Antioch educator meets White House officials

Eighteen members of the Illinois Education Association (IEA) were among 185 Illinois citizens who were briefed by the White House in Washington, D.C. Dec. 20. The briefing was a part of a continuing program by the White House to involve citizens in foreign and domestic policy considerations.

"The eighteen IEA members who participated in the briefing were leaders in local associations all across the state of Illinois," said IEA President Mel Smith. "All of us who participated in the briefing were impressed with the candor and honesty with which administration officials made presentations and dealt with questions and comments from the 185 Illinois citizens there assembled," Smith added.

The meeting was one of the first of several state-day sessions at the White House, and included leaders from all walks of life in a briefing conducted by the office of Sara Weddington, assistant to the President. The meeting was conducted in the Old Executive Office Building, and gave the participants the opportunity to hear and question Cabinet and Administration Staff officials regarding their various areas of responsibility.

ATTENDING from the north suburban area was IEA Region 5 Chairperson and board member Sue Gerasch, an Antioch High School teacher. Gerasch praised the briefing as "an in-depth effort to communicate the administration's plans and programs to Illinois state and area leaders." She viewed the state-level briefing as a concept "whose time had arrived."

The meeting began at 9:45 a.m. in the Old Executive Building with a briefing by Secretary of the Treasury Miller concerning the state of the economy and administration programs and proposals in that area. Secretary Miller was followed by a presentation by Special Assistant to Stu Eisenstadt, the President's advisor for domestic affairs and policy.

One of the highlights of the morning session was a briefing by Dr. Zbigniew Brzezinski, the Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs. Dr. Brzezinski briefed the group assembled on a full range of foreign affairs, from the current Iranian crisis to administration policies and programs for Africa, to the Salt II treaty.

FOLLOWING Brzezinski's presentation, the Illinoisans assembled heard from Energy Secretary Duncan about efforts of the United States to become energy self-sufficient. This portion of the briefing was particularly timely, as the House and Senate were in session dealing with several items concerning the administration's energy policy.

Following lunch in the State Dining Room, the afternoon was concluded by a briefing with the White House Chief of Staff, Hamilton Jordan. This briefing took place in the East Room and was culminated by a question and answer session with President Jimmy Carter.

"By the close of an exhausting day, all of the educators who participated indicated their expanded understanding of the critical problems facing our country, and the comfort they could feel that the President and his staff were leading our nation in the right direction," Smith concluded.

Update on tax rules for area consultant

Bob Schmerbauch, Lake County Extension Adviser reported that 52 tax practitioners from Lake County enrolled for the recent Farm Income Tax School sponsored by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service. They were among the over 4,000 practitioners who enrolled in the 24 schools held in different locations during November and December.

The two-day school provided intensive training and instruction for figuring and filing farm as well as nonfarm federal and state income tax returns.

The Springfield—and Chicago Districts of the Internal Revenue Service and the Illinois Department of Revenue provided specially trained instructors for the schools. They also helped plan and prepare teaching materials.

Schmerbauch said that the school brought the tax practitioners current information on new federal and state income tax rules, regulations and interpretations. The end result of the school will be properly prepared income tax returns.

Tax practitioners and consultants who enrolled for the income tax schools from the Antioch area included, Sherry Dalgaard, Thomley Accounting, Lindenhurst; Gary Doolittle, Antioch; Jon Lasco and Martha Lasco, Antioch Tax Service, Antioch; and Manfred O. Thomley, Accounting & Tax, Lindenhurst.

WRAP FOR CANCER

The Lake County Unit for the American Cancer Society had volunteers from the Antioch area stationed at the Vernon Hills Hawthorn Center Mall to wrap gifts for a nominal fee with proceeds benefiting the society. According to Mrs. Bill Brook, the group was getting all sorts of unusual wrapping requests and also expect to surpass last year's total amount of gifts wrapped which was 2,000.

Chamber declares turkey winners in promo

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry's "Let's Talk Turkey" promotion was a huge success, according to Chamber Executive Secretary Dixie Sparks. The Christmas promotion, headed by retail committee chairperson LoAl Clark, gave away 30 turkeys to downtown Antioch shoppers who obtained tickets at stores participating in the event. "There was no purchase necessary, yet we still saw a lot of people shopping downtown," Ms. Clark said.

Ms. Clark also pointed out that most stores ran out of tickets before the drawing and had to get more from the committee to answer requests.

BUSINESSES DONATING TURKEYS and winners included Reeve's Walgreen Agency, Hans C. Erickson of Lake Villa; Four Squires, Mary McCole, Burlington; Awards By Kaydan, Roger Leaf, Antioch; McDonalds, Ralph AESCHO, Trevor; George's Texaco, Joy Dejule, Antioch; Piggy Bank, Pam Bock, Antioch; Park Avenue Gallery, Pat Becker, Antioch; Stanley's, Gloria Marshall, Antioch; and Barnstable's, Jean Jowarski, Antioch.

Other businesses and winners included Johnson Jewelers, Elaine Grumbeck, Wisc.; Shoe Box, Carol Mattson, Antioch; Antioch Drugs Bill Zeason, Antioch; Antioch Savings & Loan Lavern Wronski, Twin Lakes; Antioch True Value, Pete Klecki, Antioch; Ben Franklin, Elvira Turman and Don Marski; and B.J.'s Fashions Donna Schwanbeck, Antioch.

STILL OTHERS DONATING AND receiving

turkeys were DeGraff Family Shoes, Kristen Kirkegaard, Antioch; Ericksons, Helen Rosing; Foremost Liquors, Philip Lamantia, Antioch; Gibbs &

Jensen, George Vistain; State Bank of Antioch, Dennis Stolarik, Antioch; Globe, Michael Malick; Hohn Jewelers, R. Schwartz, Lake Villa; Candlelight Galleries,

Pete Hansen; Haley Cleaners Ron Polec; Kirby Vacuum, Josephine Schun, Chicago; Lasco, Mary Emerich, Antioch; Polsons, Helen Minahan, Fox Lake;

and Sears, Edith Corey, Antioch. The retail committee is now looking forward to its next promotion to be held in February.

Glover to attend EIU conference

Robert F. Glover, 423 Windsor Dr., Antioch, has been selected to attend the American Student Assn. conference by Eastern Illinois University, Charleston.

Glover, a 1978 graduate of Antioch Community High School, will join campus leaders from across the nation in Washington, D.C. from Jan. 25 through Feb. 5, 1980.

The conference will feature more than 30 different sessions including financial aids, tuition hikes and meetings with various officials to assist student leaders in their higher education plans.

In addition to the A.S.A. conference, Glover will be meeting with Governor James Thompson on Jan. 21, 1980 in Springfield to discuss topics of interest in Illinois public higher education.

Glover, a sophomore public administration major, was first elected to Eastern's student senate in February of 1979 and also serves on several university committees including the President's Council on University Planning and Budgeting.

He is the son of Mr. Clint Glover and Ms. Nancy Kopriva, both of Antioch.

DON JACKSON, JR.

Jackson heads up diver assn.

Century Divers of Lake County has announced the election of Don Jackson, Jr., as president of their association for the upcoming 1980 diving season.

Jackson is a long-time resident of Lake Villa and assistant vice president of Antioch Savings and Loan. A certified scuba instructor for Professional Assn. of Diving Instructors (PADI), he has been an active member of Century Divers for the last three years. Century Divers boasts a membership of approximately 70 certified scuba divers and has been in existence as a non-profit organization in Lake County for the past two decades.

Activities of the club include organizing Great Lakes wreck diving charters, Florida diving vacations, and other scuba related activities for its membership.

Future planned activities of the club include a marathon "under the ice" dive in February to help raise funds for the Muscular Dystrophy Assn.

Vets enjoy VFW visit

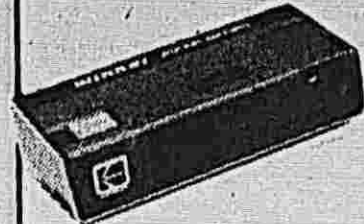

According to Jim Egem, Antioch VFW Post 4551 commander, the response from the Antioch community during the recent visit to the North Chicago VA Hospital. "Miss Antioch, Lillian Foreman, and her mother spent the whole day of Dec. 19, which was wheel chair day, with us. They did skits that had the boys really laughing," Egem said.

Egem also added that the patients at the hospital are very appreciative of the visit as some of them have little or no family that visit them during the Christmas season.

Site announced for Jan. 2 blood screening

The Lake County Health Dept. offers a variety of health care programs each week at various community sites in the county. Blood pressure sessions for adults and immunization sessions for children are available to Lake County residents at no charge.

A blood pressure session will be held from 3 to 5 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 2, at the Lindenhurst Civic Center, 1949 Old Elm Rd. No appointment is necessary.

Individuals will be screened for high blood pressure and those with elevated blood pressure will be referred to a physician for medical evaluation. Instruction for diets, medications and other aspects of controlling high blood pressure will be offered to persons referred by their physician. The risk of stroke, heart attack and kidney failure is greatly reduced when an individual's high blood pressure is controlled.

For further information, contact the hypertension program, Lake County Health Dept. at 689-6715.

Immunization sessions are held from 1 to 3 p.m. every Monday and Thursday at the Belvidere Medical Building, 2400 Belvidere Rd., Waukegan. No appointment is necessary. A parent or guardian must accompany all children.

At the immunization sessions, children can be immunized against polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus (DPT) measles, mumps and rubella (German Measles).

Parents are asked to bring their children's past immunization records. If a child has an immunization letter from a school nurse, it should also be brought to the session.

For further information on the immunization program call the Lake County Health Dept. communicable disease program, 689-6761.

Wisconsin atlases available

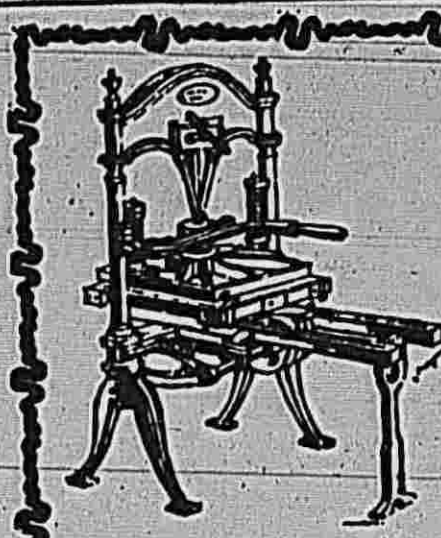

As important as gasoline when traveling in the state is the Wisconsin County map atlas.

This 128 page edition includes separate maps for each Wisconsin county. The maps show all federal, state, county and town roads; and symbols for public campgrounds, waysides, airports, points of interest and scenic tours within the counties.

This book can be obtained by mail by sending $7.50 per copy to: Wisconsin County Maps, Stock Number 1281980-REP, P.O. Box 5096, Madison, Wisc. 53705.

A special feature of the edition is a complete alphabetical (by county) list of all Wisconsin named lakes. The index includes lake location, size, depth and if there is public access; plus fish species present in the lake.

Those who know Frank maintain that he will make the old Grads sit up and take notice. The Ladies' Guild will serve the dinner, and that is sufficient proof that there will be more than enough to eat.

Eighteen pupils of the Warren High School spent last Wednesday night at the George McCredle home. The bus was stuck in the snow near there so they could go no farther. Some were from Lake Villa and others were from Fox Lake and Ingleside. The Lake Villa parents sent food as far as possible by auto, then Mr. Walker went by horseback the remainder of the way, so the young people feel that they have had some experience similar to our early pioneers. During the winter months it might be a good idea to have a supply of snowshoes on the bus so the pupils may be able to get to their homes.

Chas. and Gordon Hamlin of Lake Villa, who have been at Waukesha taking mud baths, have returned home. Gordon is much improved and able to be about the house.

New Chamber members announced by Sparks

Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry Executive Secretary Dixie Sparks has announced that tickets for annual Chamber installation banquet are available for $10 per person through the Chamber office.

Sharon Simon of the Shoe Box, Pete Cleven President First National Bank, and Bruce Jablonski of Erickson's Sewing Center, will be the featured guests at the dinner slated for Jan. 19. These three newly elected board of director members will be installed at the gala event to begin at 6 p.m. in the Tower

Room at the Antioch Bowl.

Mr. Bill Brook, President of the Antioch State Bank will emcee the event. Entertainment will be provided by the musical group Favour.

Sec. Sparks was also pleased to announce three new members of the Chamber. Recent joiners are Daniel Sturbenz proprietor of D.J.'s Fitness Center located at the Antioch Bowl; and Drs. Thomas L. Hesslink and Phillip Bickers, two new Md.'s with offices located at the Antioch Clinic 200 Main St.

Letter To The Editor

THANKS PEOPLE

Editor:

We of Antioch VFW Post 4551 are sure proud of the people of Antioch, for all the cookies and gifts we got for North Chicago Hospital. The VA Hospital also wants to thank you too.

We spent four days at the hospital, making it a better Christmas for our comrades. Life is pretty lonely there, their own families don't visit them.

I owe an apology to Miss Antioch, she made our Post hospital visit with us and I forgot to mention her name. Miss Antioch Lillian Foreman and her mother, spent all of Dec. 19, wheelchair day at the hospital.

Mrs. Foreman played Santa Claus and really had the boys laughing. Lillian, also did an act which kept the fellows laughing.

THANKS

Editor:

On behalf of the Hawthorn Merchant's Assn., I would like to express our sincere gratitude to the generous contributors for the new gifts dropped in our Neediest Children's Christmas Gift Box during the holiday season.

Hundreds of gifts were distributed by the Salvation Army to Grove School for the multi-handicapped, hospitals and other institutions in Lake County. Also benefiting were the children of the LaRabida Hospital and Research Center and Little City Foundation.

Thanks again. Because you took time to care, hundreds of less fortunate children had a brighter Christmas.

Food, fun, fellowship at Friendship Center

Seventy older adults attended the Antioch Fun, Food and Friendship Center's annual Christmas party 6n Dec. 21 at the Antioch Scout House on Main St. The program is sponsored by the Catholic Charities.

Lori McKillit was volunteer chairman for the party. She had several other volunteers assisting her.

Almost everyone who stayed for the party donated cash or brought goodies that were served in the afternoon. Ann Gialds brought the hors d'oeuvres that everyone had before lunch. Assorted nuts were nibbled on along with punch in the afternoon. Jello molds, chips and dips, finger sandwiches, relish tray, cheese spreads, crackers, cookies and cakes of all kinds were enjoyed by all those who stayed all afternoon.

Everyone received an orange, apple, key chains, chocolate candy and a ball point pen donated by merchants in the area, the Antioch Jaycees donated the canned goods that were given as door prizes.

The Antioch State Bank furnished the song sheets that were used for the sing-a-long. Emily Novotny, Virginia Necker, Al Courtois and Maurice Bown, volunteer band members, played for the sing-a-long and for the dancing. Fritz Haesi sang several songs in German with the people joining in on some.

Iris Schroeder and Helen Wais were two of the faithful kitchen helpers.

Tickets were sold for prizes donated by friends of the center. Funds raised will be used for future parties.

Some of the goodies that were left were frozen to be used at the New Year's and birthday party on Dec. 28.

Ursula Seiffert is the coordinator of the Antioch Center.

Happenings

Widows and widowers are invited to attend the Lake County Naim meeting at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 13, at Our Lady of Humility School Hall, Zion. There will be the installation of officers followed by a social hour. For further information call 872-5318.

WINTER

Working parents are reminded to have a schedule worked out for their children in case of a snow emergency. If school should be called in the middle of the day, children should know where they are to go if parents don't want them home alone.

"FOUR ON A GARDEN" — Members of the cast, from left, Bruce Stamm of Antioch as Angie, Peter T. Miller as Sam, and Ann Marie Cina as Beatrice, rehearse a scene from the American Repertory Theatre Systems dinner-theatre production of "Four On A Garden," directed by Barbara D. Miller. The play will be running weekends at Andre's Steak House in Richmond opening Jan. 11 and running through Jan. 27. Dinner-theatre Friday and Saturday is at 6:30 p.m. and Sunday matinee is at 1:30 p.m. Reservations are necessary and may be made by calling 815-678-2671. Opening Feb. 8 is "Marriage Go Round".

Antioch High health careers class works with youngsters

Fourth and fifth graders in Lake County can learn how to take care of their teeth and gums by applying the specific preventive dental practices taught to them by high school students. The program through which they learn is the Teenage Health Education Teaching Assistants (THETA) program of the Lake County Health Department. The opportunity to participate in the program is made available to schools in Lake County each year.

Each high school student, who volunteers for the program, is trained for two weeks by a dentist or dental hygienist. He or she is then responsible for teaching a series of classes in oral health, with the help of the elementary school teacher. The high school students thus provide a new source of teaching manpower for health education while learning to take responsibility and learning about a career possibility.

Topics covered in the THETA program include removal of plaque through brushing and flossing and the proper diet for good oral health. Teaching techniques include films, demonstrations, use of dental mirrors and disclosing tablets, and practice of brushing and flossing. The parents of the elementary school children are encouraged to become involved in the program so as to assure follow-up at home.

Antioch Community High School course in Health Careers taught by Ms. Laurie Wilkens were used to expose the students to two career areas. Students taught for one-half hour twice a week for three weeks.

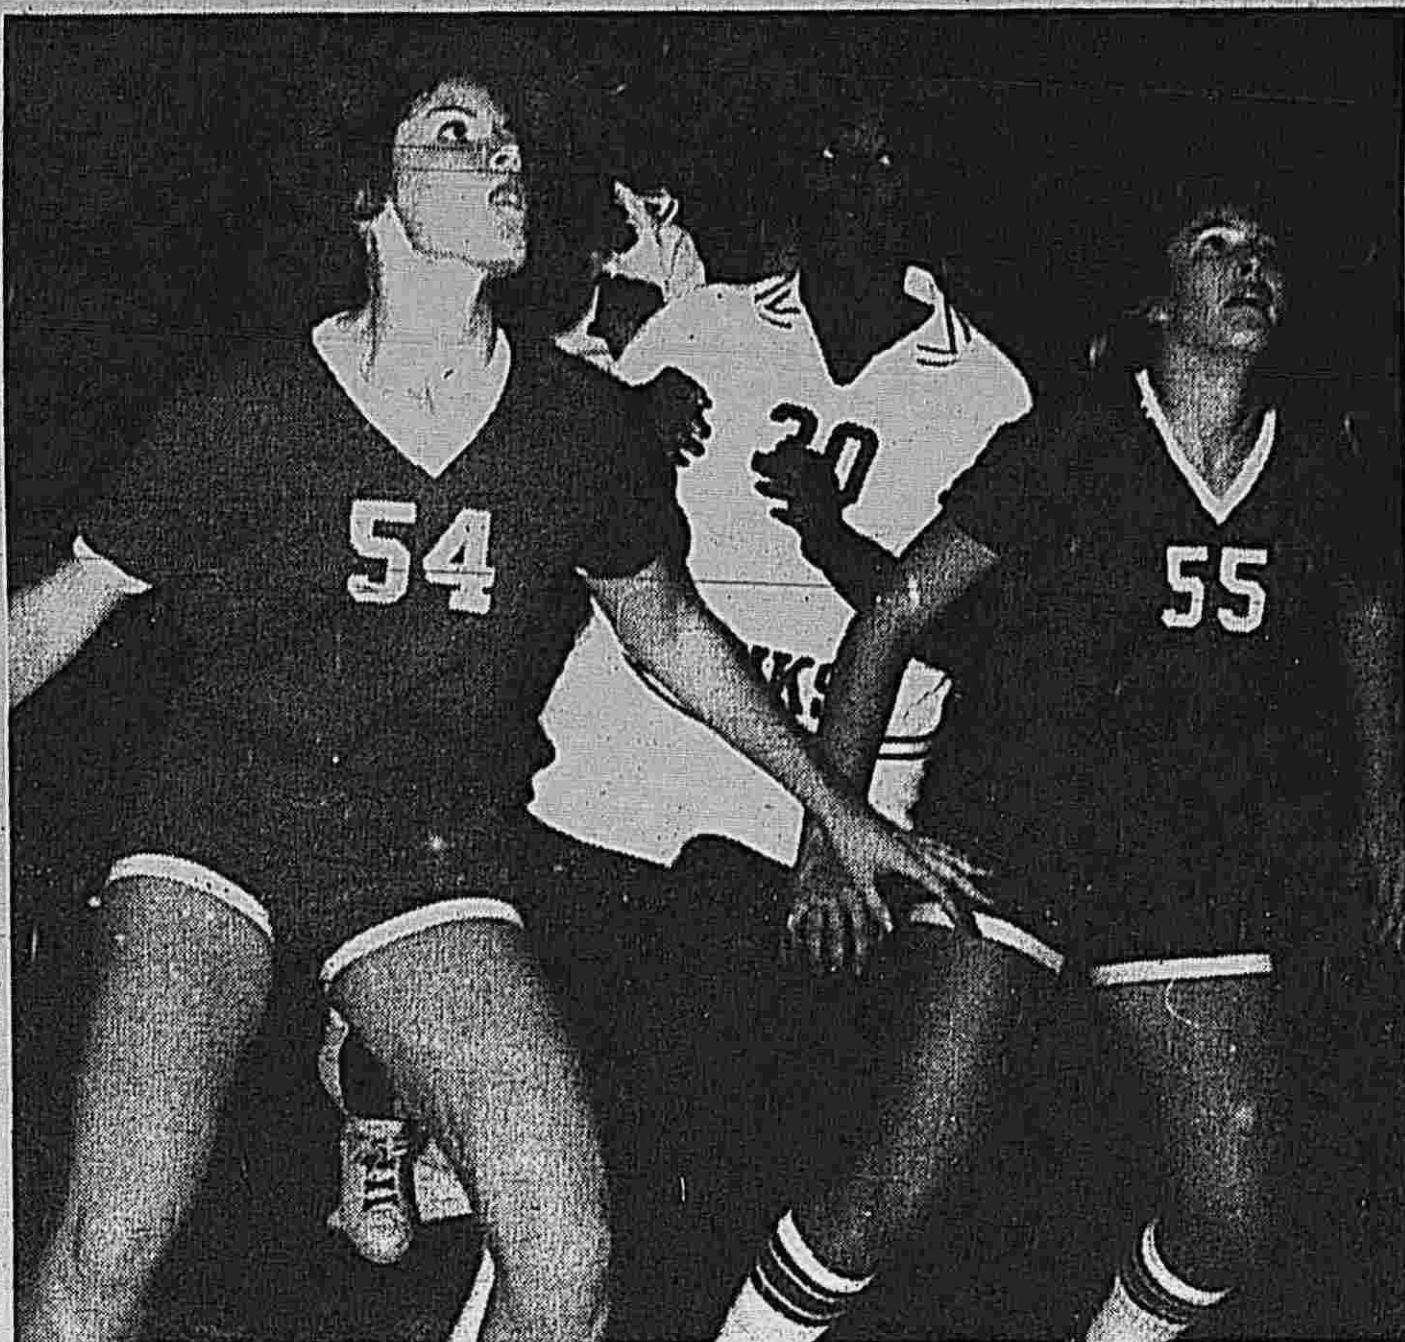

They taught the local fourth graders at Oakland, Antioch and Channel Lake grade schools dental hygiene.

The following taught at Antioch Grade School under the supervision of Mrs. Liddle, Donna Andre and Luann Dammann. Under Mr. Eisen, Jenny Behne and Tina Abernathy. Under Mrs. Zureb, Gail Abernathy and Debbie Eberhard.

At Oakland Grade School under Mrs. Sheldon, Amy Stebbins, Robin Weldin and Mary Zajac. Under Mrs. Carlson, Jania Wolf and Kelly Stender. Under Mrs. Nutter, Chris Splitt, Jean Neff and Melanie Lemke.

Students at Channel Lake Grade School under Mrs. Petkas include Kathy Summers and Andrea Becker.

The Health Careers courses is designed to explore the wide range of health careers, so students can make a career decision to match their interest and abilities.

Measles immunization at St. Peters urged

An increased number of measles cases in Lake County has been found by the Lake County Health Dept.

The type of measles occurring is "red" measles, "hard" measles, or "ten-day" measles. Symptoms of the disease are fever, cough, red eyes, runny nose and a red rash, usually starting on the face. The time between the exposure and the showing of symptoms is usually between 10 and 14 days.

Parents should call the child's physician if a child shows measles symptoms and avoid exposing other children to the child.

If families do not have a physician, they may call the health department at 689-6761. Adults should also call if they are exposed and have never had the disease or been immunized.

Children who are most susceptible to measles are those who were under one year of age at the time of measles immunization, those who received the immunization before 1969 and cannot document which kind, those who have received a killed vaccine, and those who have received a live vaccine with gamma globulin. Parents who are unaware of their child's measles immunization status should call the child's physician or the health department.

The health department is strongly encouraging measles immunizations for non-immunized children at 15 months of age or older at this time. If the family does not have a private physician, parents may obtain immunizations for their children at the Lake County Health Dept., which offers immunizations not only against measles, but also against mumps, rebecca (German Measles), polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus (DPT), at no charge.

No appointment is necessary at the following location unless noted otherwise: St. Peter's Church Hall, 557 Lake St. 9 to 11:30 a.m., third Wednesday of the month. Next session will be Jan. 16.

Names in the NEWS

State Rep. Donald E. Deuster (R-Mundelein), is running for election as an "uncommitted" Delegate to the Republican National Nominating Convention which will assemble in Detroit, Mich. on July 13, 1980.

In a letter to Republican leaders in the Antioch area and throughout the 13th Congressional District, Deuster said: "In view of the multitude of fine Presidential candidates, with many of whom I am personally well acquainted, it is my intention to remain as an uncommitted delegate until all of the 35 or more state Presidential Primaries have been concluded, and preferably until the very time of the Detroit Convention in July of 1980."

Although delegate slates "pledged" to individual candidates are forming now, Deuster is steadfast in his determination to stay uncommitted, saying: "The wisest decision concerning our Presidential and Vice Presidential nominees as well as the Republican National Platform will be made in Detroit this July after all of the primaries are over, and after all the candidates have fully presented their credentials and viewpoints. As an uncommitted Illinois Delegate, I will be free to make the best possible decisions at the best time for the Republican Party."

Green gets national extension award

Irene M. Green, Lake County Extension Adviser, with the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, was honored at a banquet of Illinois Association of Extension Home Economists in Urbana recently.

Irene was one of three Extension Advisers of Home

Economics in Illinois to receive the National Distinguished Service Award. This award was presented to Irene recently by the National Association of Extension Home Economists at its annual meeting in Richmond, Virginia.

This award is presented for outstanding implementation of Extension Home Economics programs, community leadership, personal, and professional growth.

One program cited for recognition was the combined cooperative efforts of Cooperative Extension with other agencies for the organization of the Lake County Human Service Directory.

Irene has received letters of congratulations from United States Senators Charles H. Percy and Adlai E. Stevenson; Robert M. McClory, representative from Illinois and Karl Berning, Illinois State Senate.

Names in the NEWS

Philip O. Toal of Lindenhurst, is among 20 MacMurray College seniors named recently to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Toal, a psychology major; is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Toal, 415 Surrey Ln.

The purpose of this national organization is to recognize outstanding students whose academic achievement, service to the community and leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential are above average.

These students join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,200 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

MacMurray is a private four-year coeducational liberal arts college offering 34 departmental majors and seven pre-professional programs leading to bachelors degrees in the arts, science or music, an associate of applied science degree in the administration of justice and an associate of arts degree in business.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Hope everybody's New Year celebration was a safe and happy event. I know that everyone enjoyed the party at Antioch Bowl. Lots of fun stuff going on over there on New Year's Eve.

Also hope Capt. Miller of the Antioch Police didn't have too many problems with the drinking age change. Seems to me, the change could have happened on a less popular drinking date.

Speaking of the Antioch Police Dept., Lt. Tom Fisher should be returning to work after taking a little time off during the holidays. I saw that he was around town and in and out of the office just like always. Some vacation. What's wrong Fish, don't you duck hunt?

Got news that Mrs. Dorothy Shultis donated over 500 dolls to the Waukegan Chapter of the Marine Reserves Toys for Tots campaign. She and her friends work year-round on the volunteer project repairing dolls to donate to the less fortunate people in the area. Thanks to these Antioch residents, some children will get their Christmas wishes. Hats off to these ladies.

Russ Fairchild is still resting at Victory Memorial after successful surgery after his accident. Hope the new year brings better luck to he and his family.

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry Retail Committee was very pleased with the results of the "Let's Talk Turkey" promotion. They gave away 29 turkeys to Antioch shoppers, and made some people very happy. Wouldn't have run smooth without the good direction of LoAl Clark, committee chairman, and company. Good work, gang...Dixie too.

Guess I should warn the Lions Club that there may be some flying objects at their next meeting. At the Jaycee Christmas party, Ron Vanscoyoc received a supply of throwables from Santa. My advice to Santa is to stay out of those bathrooms, and my advice to the Lions is to cut out all this throwing stuff, anyway.

Got a letter the other day from long-time Antioch resident Sally Ann (Sarah) Derrig. She's visiting folks in Oklahoma and has visited the birthplace of Will Rogers, an American institution, who would have been 100 years old this year. She also reported that her Dec. 12 birthday was honored by a greeting from President Jimmy Carter and the First Lady. Congratulations on reaching that milestone, Ms Derrig.

On a very serious note, the Christmas holiday was ruined for Antioch residents that for over half a century have enjoyed the Nativity in front of St. Peter's Catholic Church. Two of the beautiful ceramic figures were stolen, and two of them were shattered in front of the church. The creche figures were imported from Hamburg, Germany in 1926 and have been cherished by the church for many years.

This is just an example of a totally irresponsible act, destroying property that is absolutely irreplaceable. I tend to believe that the person or persons who did this awful thing, was/were very sick. There is no explanation for what was done. Luckily, the Christian religion teaches the forgiveness of sins—even those that come with destruction of irreplaceable property.

WILL BURYING NUCLEAR WASTE BURY US ALL?

It's enough to strike fear in anyone's heart. Nuclear waste, by-product of every reactor in the world, radioactive for tens of thousands of years, lying there like some malevolent genie in a bottle waiting to be let loose.

That's what the future of commercial nuclear power hinges on. What do we do with the waste? Where on earth is it safe? Can burying it really keep it from coming back to kill us?

No matter what you've heard, there are answers. Solutions exist. Now.

One is reprocessing. Dissolving spent fuel rods in a strong acid, then separating out the plutonium and leftover uranium for reuse. It leaves just four percent of the total to bury. And in six hundred years, that four percent won't contain any more radioactivity than all the uranium ore mined to make the fuel in the first place.

Now, if six hundred years still sounds like an eternity, consider the process called vitrification. In plain English, that means immobilizing the waste. Actually turning it into a piece of solid glass. Inert, chemically stable glass, enclosed in a steel jacket an inch thick and buried.

Really buried. A good two thousand feet down in a bone-dry salt bed or granite formation whose very existence means it hasn't been disturbed by groundwater or an earthquake in at least ten million years. And in all probability, won't be for millions more.

But what if? If there were a quake. If the shifting earth drowned the site in a river of water. If the steel jacket ripped apart. If the glass inside were exposed to the current for ages to come. If somehow, in some inexplicable way, though glass is highly insoluble in water, it still managed to dissolve. And the water, though separated from the surface by two thousand feet of rock and soil, still managed to find a way up.

If all that happened, against all odds, the very volume of water would dilute the dissolved waste even further. And the slow flow (groundwater travels less than a hundred yards a year) would give the radioactivity remaining more than enough time to decay to about the same level as the background radiation we're exposed to all the time.

None of that is a pipedream. It's fact. Documented fact. Spelled out again and again in countless government reports and independent studies. Proven again and again in exhaustive tests and pilot projects (in England, France, Germany, Sweden and Canada, as well as Kansas, Nevada and Washington State). And almost universally accepted by the scientific and technical community world-wide.

What's more, there are literally thousands of square miles of salt beds and granite formations under America, and only a few square miles could easily hold every ounce of high-level waste generated by all our nuclear power plants put together. Not to mention the eighty million gallons stored up in the thirty-five years our country has been making atomic weapons.

The only problem we haven't solved yet is how to get the show on the road. We can't reprocess because the government won't okay it. Despite the knowledge that every pound of plutonium we salvage not only leaves one less to bury, but also can produce as much energy as seven hundred fifty tons of coal or one hundred thirty thousand gallons of oil.

And we can't bury what we've already got, even though doing it safely doesn't depend on reprocessing, because Congress gave the government a monopoly on permanent storage back in 1970. And despite the weight of affirmative evidence, it hasn't acted yet.

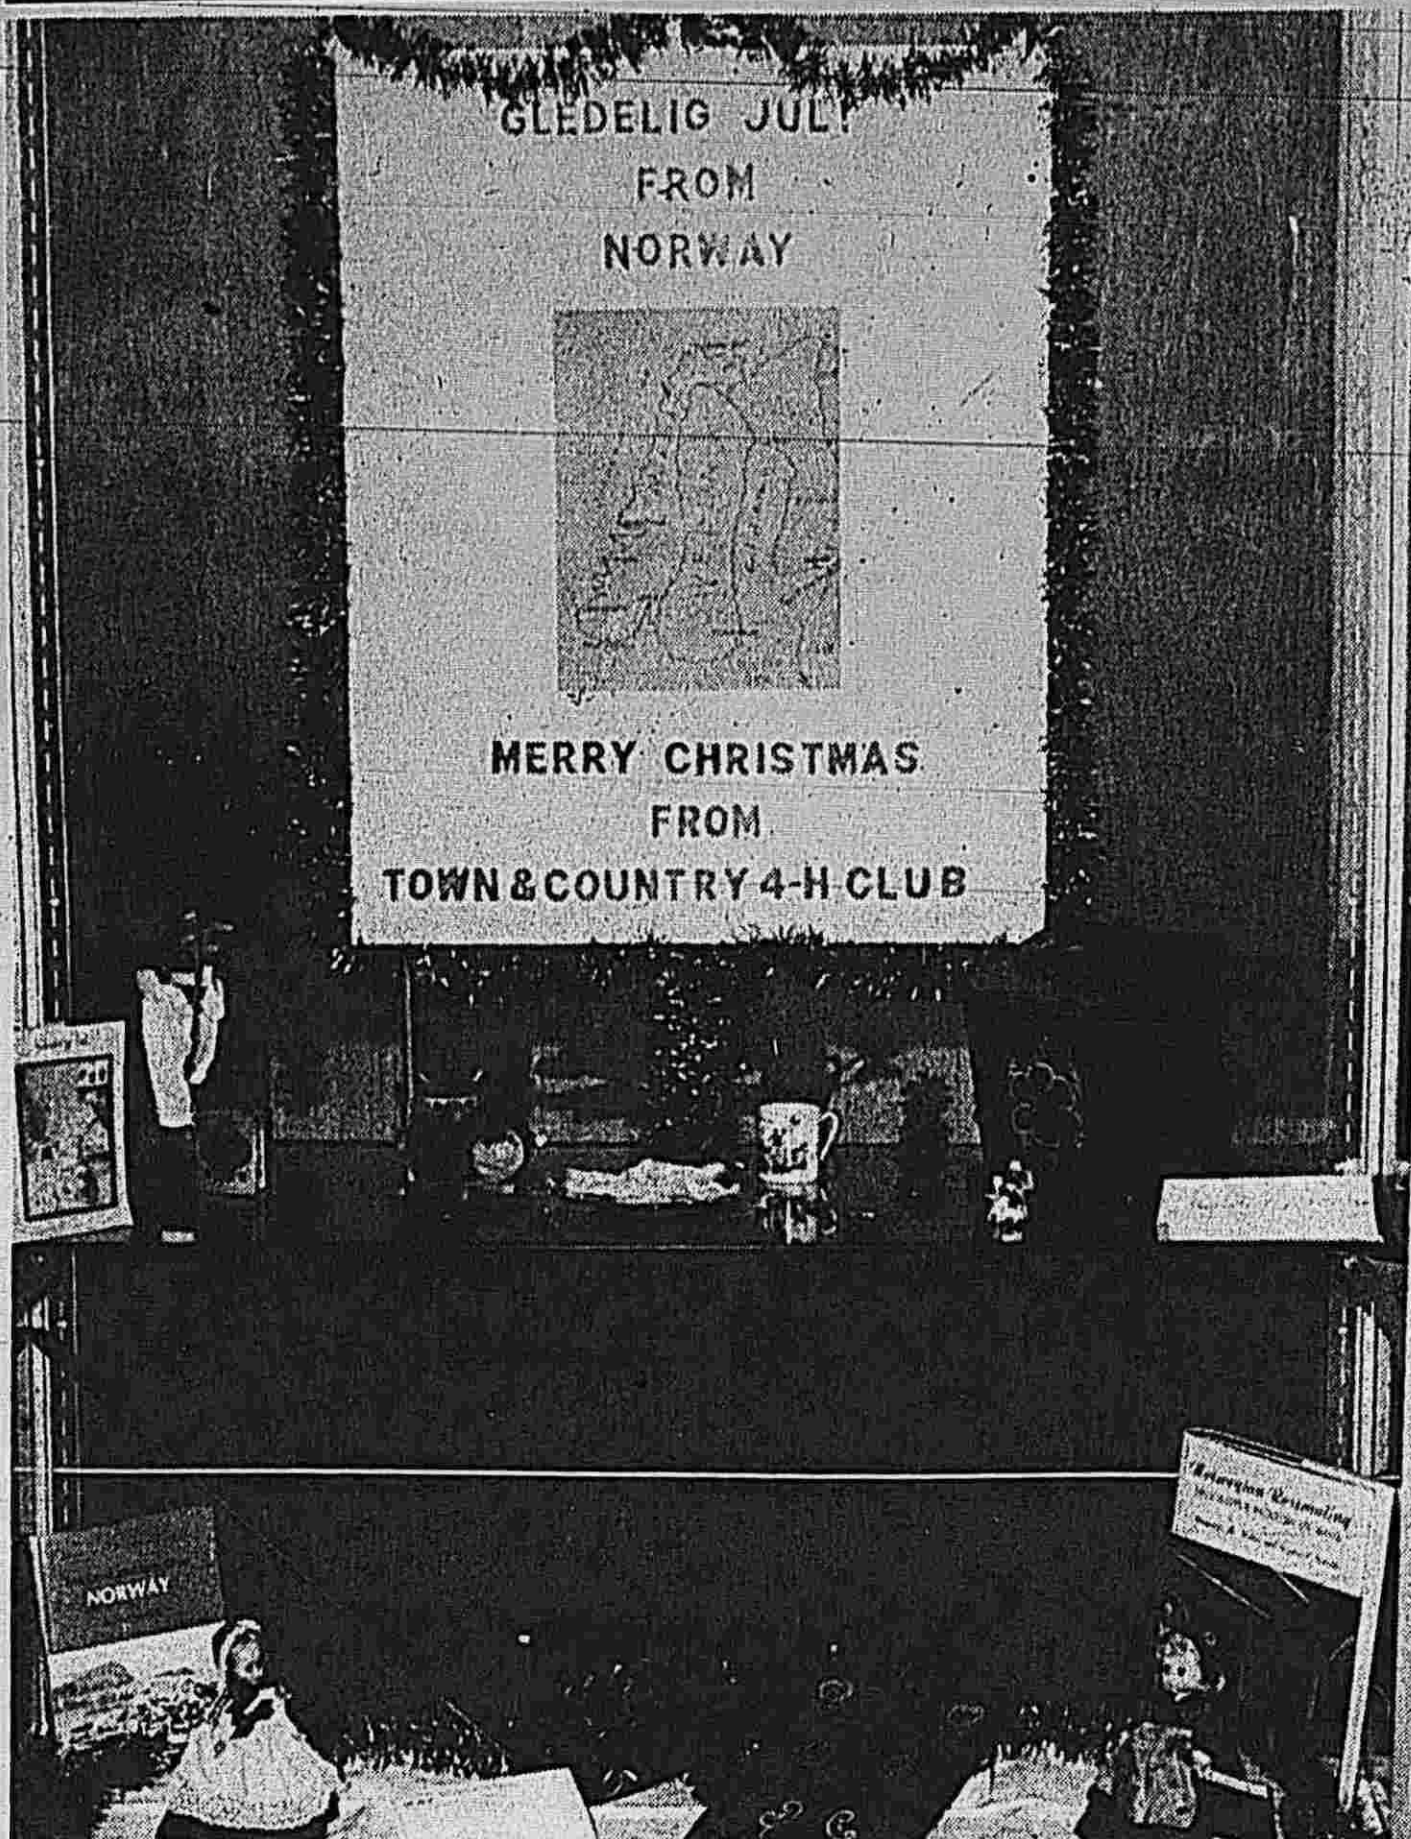

The problem is, if all seventy-two nuclear power plants in the United States vanished tomorrow, nuclear waste wouldn't. There's still a lot sitting around, and less than one percent of it is from power plants. Remember, years of nuclear weapons production have amassed eighty million gallons, and there's more coming.

Isn't it time we laid the problem to rest?

Green gets national extension award

Irene M. Green, Lake County Extension Adviser, with the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, was honored at a banquet of Illinois Association of Extension Home Economists in Urbana recently.

Irene was one of three Extension Advisers of Home

Economics in Illinois to receive the National Distinguished Service Award. This award was presented to Irene recently by the National Association of Extension Home Economists at its annual meeting in Richmond, Virginia.

This award is presented for outstanding implementation of Extension Home Economics programs, community leadership, personal, and professional growth.

One program cited for recognition was the combined cooperative efforts of Cooperative Extension with other agencies for the organization of the Lake County Human Service Directory.

Irene has received letters of congratulations from United States Senators Charles H. Percy and Adlai E. Stevenson; Robert M. McClory, representative from Illinois and Karl Berning, Illinois State Senate.

Names in the NEWS

Philip O. Toal of Lindenhurst, is among 20 MacMurray College seniors named recently to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Toal, a psychology major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Toal, 415 Surrey Ln.

The purpose of this national organization is to recognize outstanding students whose academic achievement, service to the community and leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential are above average.

These students join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,200 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

MacMurray is a private four-year coeducational liberal arts college offering 34 departmental majors and seven pre-professional programs leading to bachelors degrees in the arts, science or music, an associate of applied science degree in the administration of justice and an associate of arts degree in business.

CONSERVATION

If you don't have a fireplace in which to recycle your Christmas tree, consider donating it to the Lake County Forest Preserve District. Discarded trees will be used to improve fishing at two lakes by sinking them along shorelines to attract fish. Trees can be dropped off at these two forest preserves between 9 a.m. and noon on Saturday, Jan. 5. Sterling Lake parking lot, located on Russell Rd. east of Rte. 41, and the Old School Forest Preserve, located on St. Mary's Rd. south of Rockland Rd. in Libertyville.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Hope everybody's New Year celebration was a safe and happy event. I know that everyone enjoyed the party at Antioch Bowl. Lots of fun stuff going on over there on New Year's Eve.

Also hope Capt. Miller of the Antioch Police didn't have too many problems with the drinking age change. Seems to me, the change could have happened on a less popular drinking date.

Speaking of the Antioch Police Dept., Lt. Tom Fisher should be returning to work after taking a little time off during the holidays. I saw that he was around town and in and out of the office just like always. Some vacation. What's wrong Fish, don't you duck hunt?

Got news that Mrs. Dorothy Shultis donated over 500 dolls to the Waukegan Chapter of the Marine Reserves Toys for Tots campaign. She and her friends work year-round on the volunteer project repairing dolls to donate to the less fortunate people in the area. Thanks to these Antioch residents, some children will get their Christmas wishes. Hats off to these ladies.

Russ Fairchild is still resting at Victory Memorial after successful surgery after his accident. Hope the new year brings better luck to he and his family.

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry Retail Committee was very pleased with the results of the "Let's Talk Turkey" promotion. They gave away 29 turkeys to Antioch shoppers, and made some people very happy. Wouldn't have run smooth without the good direction of LoAl Clark, committee chairman, and company. Good work, gang...Dixie too.

Guess I should warn the Lions Club that there may be some flying objects at their next meeting. At the Jaycee Christmas party, Ron Vanscoyoc received a supply of throwables from Santa. My advice to Santa is to stay out of those bathrooms, and my advice to the Lions is to cut out all this throwing stuff, anyway.

Got a letter the other day from long-time Antioch resident Sally Ann (Sarah) Derrig. She's visiting folks in Oklahoma and has visited the birthplace of Will Rogers, an American institution, who would have been 100 years old this year. She also reported that her Dec. 12 birthday was honored by a greeting from President Jimmy Carter and the First Lady. Congratulations on reaching that milestone, Ms Derrig.

On a very serious note, the Christmas holiday was ruined for Antioch residents that for over half a century have enjoyed the Nativity in front of St. Peter's Catholic Church. Two of the beautiful ceramic figures were stolen, and two of them were shattered in front of the church. The creche figures were imported from Hamburg, Germany in 1926 and have been charished by the church for many years.

This is just an example of a totally irresponsible act, destroying property that is absolutely irreplaceable. I tend to believe that the person or persons who did this awful thing, was/were very sick. There is no explanation for what was done. Luckily, the Christian religion teaches the forgiveness of sins—even those that come with destruction of irreplaceable property.

WILL BURYING NUCLEAR WASTE BURY US ALL?

It's enough to strike fear in anyone's heart. Nuclear waste, by-product of every reactor in the world, radioactive for tens of thousands of years, lying there like some malevolent genie in a bottle waiting to be let loose.

That's what the future of commercial nuclear power hinges on. What do we do with the waste? Where, on earth is it safe? Can burying it really keep it from coming back to kill us?

No matter what you've heard, there are answers. Solutions exist. Now.

One is reprocessing. Dissolving spent fuel rods in a strong acid, then separating out the plutonium and leftover uranium for reuse. It leaves just four percent of the total to bury. And in six hundred years, that four percent won't contain any more radioactivity than all the uranium ore mined to make the fuel in the first place.

Now, if six hundred years still sounds like an eternity, consider the process called vitrification. In plain English, that means immobilizing the waste. Actually turning it into a piece of solid glass. Inert, chemically stable glass, enclosed in a steel jacket an inch thick and buried.

Really buried. A good two thousand feet down in a bone-dry salt bed or granite formation whose very existence means it hasn't been disturbed by groundwater or an earthquake in at least ten million years. And in all probability, won't be for millions more.

But what if? If there were a quake. If the shifting earth drowned the site in a river of water. If the steel jacket ripped apart. If the glass inside were exposed to the current for ages to come. If somehow, in some inexplicable way, though glass is highly insoluble in water, it still managed to dissolve. And the water, though separated from the surface by two thousand feet of rock and soil, still managed to find a way up.

If all that happened, against all odds, the very volume of water would dilute the dissolved waste even further. And the slow flow (groundwater travels less than a hundred yards a year) would give the radioactivity remaining more than enough time to decay to about the same level as the background radiation we're exposed to all the time.

None of that is a pipedream. It's fact. Documented fact. Spelled out again and again in countless government reports and independent studies. Proven again and again in exhaustive tests and pilot projects (in England, France, Germany, Sweden and Canada, as well as Kansas, Nevada and Washington State). And almost universally accepted by the scientific and technical community world-wide.

What's more, there are literally thousands of square miles of salt beds and granite formations under America, and only a few square miles could easily hold every ounce of high-level waste generated by all our nuclear power plants put together. Not to mention the eighty million gallons stored up in the thirty-five years our country has been making atomic weapons.

The only problem we haven't solved yet is how to get the show on the road. We can't reprocess because the government won't okay it. Despite the knowledge that every pound of plutonium we salvage not only leaves one less to bury, but also can produce as much energy as seven hundred fifty tons of coal or one hundred thirty thousand gallons of oil.

And we can't bury what we've already got, even though doing it safely doesn't depend on reprocessing, because Congress gave the government a monopoly on permanent storage back in 1970. And despite the weight of affirmative evidence, it hasn't acted yet.

The problem is, if all seventy-two nuclear power plants in the United States vanished tomorrow, nuclear waste wouldn't. There's still a lot sitting around, and less than one percent of it is from power plants. Remember, years of nuclear weapons production have amassed eighty million gallons, and there's more coming.

Isn't it time we laid the problem to rest?

Sequoits host Bears after losing pair

The comeback road is not getting any easier for Antioch's varsity basketball team as the Sequoits host Lake Zurich at 8 p.m., Friday, Jan. 4, in Northwest Suburban Conference action.

The Sequoits come into the contest at 2-2 in the NWSC, 5-6 overall after dropping two in the Rockford Classic Tournament. The Bears are 3-1 in the league.

"They have done real well," was all Roger Andrews, Antioch head coach had to say about Lake Zurich. "We're going to have to get ready to go."

In the Rockford tourney, the Sequoits faced a familiar foe in the opening round as Rockford Boylan provided the competition.

Boylan decided to pay Antioch back for knocking them out of the class 4A state football playoffs, as the Titans defeated the Sequoits 75-64.

"We should've won," said Andrews. "We played well in the first half. We stood around in the third quarter and they outscored us 25-8. That was the ball game."

The Sequoits blew a 40-32 halftime advantage with the third quarter letdown.

The Titans switched from a zone to man to man at the intermission, according to Andrews, which should have helped Antioch.

"We outsized them," he said. "We should've chewed them up. We turned the ball over."

Defensively, we broke down," he added. "We played poor defense."

Ron Nauman led the Sequoit scoring with 22 points, while Kurt Selak put in 19 and Dee Maras added 16.

Less than 24 hours later, it looked like a replay as the Sequoits again had a bad third quarter which cost them the game and knocked them out of the tournament.

During the third quarter, Chicago St. Francis DeSales outscored Antioch 24-12 to help them achieve a 76-73 victory.

"They stayed the same," Andrews perplexedly said. "I don't know what happens in the second half. I guess I might have to get on a soapbox at halftime. I just don't know."

The Sequoits held a slightly smaller lead at intermission this time, 40-34.

"We were on top and in control," he said. "We came out dead in the second half."

Maras put in 28 points to lead the Sequoits with Nauman adding 17 and Selak a dozen.

"We're giving up too many points," Andrews cited as his team's problem thus far. "We're playing a lot better. We have to do our homework on defense."

"Another problem is we need more scoring from our guards," he explained. "Mike Anderson has showed a lot of improvement in his guard play."

"We've got to improve defensively and get more productivity out of our guards," he concluded.

Antioch frosh remain unbeaten

Antioch High School's freshmen basketball A team will begin the new year in first place in the conference with a 4-0 record.

Their latest victim was Wauconda 58-28. The game was part of a "pro-type" schedule in which the team played five games in six days. The frosh won three of those games of which the Wauconda game was the only conference game. A summary of the games follows:

The first game found Antioch beating Wauconda with a 58-28 score. The Sequoits got off to a slow start and led only 24-21 at halftime. However, in the second half Antioch dominated 34 to 9.

Tom Anderson, Derek Olsen and Tim Hartokolis were in double figures with 15, 14 and 12 points respectively. Hartokolis led in rebounds with 10 and Brad Herbst was credited with four assists.

Zion then defeated the Sequoits 42-39 with another slow start trailing 35-21 before making a strong fourth quarter rally.

Anderson led the scoring with 12 points and Chris Becker grabbed 12 rebounds.

Many missed freethrows led to the defeat.

Antioch's next game was a winner defeating Buffalo Grove 50-43.

The usual slow start left the Sequoits trailing until late in the third quarter. Scoring leaders were Anderson 18, Becker 12 and Hartokolis 11. Olsen had 5 assists and Anderson 9 rebounds.

The tough schedule caught up to the Sequoits in the fourth game in four days when Jacobs defeated the Sequoits 65-36.

The tough schedule caught up to the Sequoits in the fourth game in four days when Jacobs defeated the Sequoits 65-36.

Antioch led all the way defeating Mundelein 49-35.

Anderson hit for 12 of his game high 18 points in the first period. Olsen chipped in 12 points and Brad Herbst seven. Anderson grabbed 15 rebounds.

INSURANCE INFORMATION

Our big Christmas gift to our children was a trampolene. However, I'm concerned someone might get hurt and we would be held responsible. A friend told me to check into the Personal Liability Coverage on our Homeowner's policy. Our policy states, "Personal Liability Coverage: $25,000". What does this cover and is it enough?

Personal Liability coverage pays on the behalf of the insured all sums (up to the limit on the policy) which the insured shall become legally obligated to pay as damages because of bodily injury or property damage. Under this coverage, the insurance company would defend any suit brought against you even if the allegations were groundless, false or fraudulent. If you are concerned about the $25,000 not being enough to cover any damages which might occur, discuss this with your agent.
